

ONE WORLD WEEK 2015

Monday 12 October

1.30-3.00pm:

Seeds of Freedom, Seeds of Sovereignty, and the struggle against Monsanto

We have put together a session on Seeds, as part of the Call to Action for Living Seed and Living Soil, called by the Global Movement for Seed Freedom from 2nd-16th October 2015.

Tuesday 13 October

11.00am-12.30pm:

The Wisdom-Keepers of the Peruvian high Andes

Presentation and film from Lorraine Jericevic

In the 16th century the Q'ero people of the Andes disappeared in order to protect an unbroken wisdom lineage dating back 13,000 years.

Emerging after 400 years they reveal a way of life based on loving kindness, unconditional reciprocity, sustainability and the sanctity of daily life — the foundations of what is known as 'The Living Peace'.

Filmed on location in the Peruvian highland this film takes you on a captivating journey into the heart of an Ancient Earthkeeping culture to experience a way of life that is at once practical and mystical. It presents universally applicable insights into a state of being based on the harmonious understanding of the Oneness of all things.

1.30-3.00pm:

Taste of Tibet – Saving a Culture

Presentation and film from David Holme of

The Tashi Lhunpo Monastery UK Trust.

Wednesday 14 October

11.00am-12.30pm:

Bottled Water and Community water supplies

Films show how tap water is bottled and sold, the mountains of plastic waste produced by the bottled water industry, how community water supplies dry up as their water is stolen from them.

1.30-3.00pm:

Film: Aluna – There is no Life without thought

The Kogi of the Sierra Nevada de Santa Marta in Colombia believe that they live in order to care for the world and keep its natural order functioning, but they recognized some years ago that this task was being made impossible by our mining and deforestation. The Kogi are profoundly frightened by what we are doing to the world, but also well aware that we have no understanding of the forces which we are unleashing. They believe that the only hope of survival for mankind is if we can learn why they are so scared. Also featuring the new Black Line Initiative.

Thursday 15 October

11.00am-12.30pm:

Coppicing Today

A talk and demonstration by John & Anna Sweeney on small woodland management and coppicing products.

1.30-3.00pm:

Film: Take Back your Power

A film by Stop Smart Meters UK. Utility companies are replacing electricity, gas and water meters worldwide with “smart” meters at an unprecedented rate. The film investigates the benefits and risks of this ubiquitous “smart” grid program, with insight from insiders, expert researchers, politicians, doctors, and concerned communities.

Friday 16 October

11.00am-12.30pm:

Building the Pond at Slades Farm Community Garden

Latest news from Theresa McManus.

1.30-3.00pm:

Refugees and community food growing

The film Grow Your Own centres on a group of gardeners at a Merseyside allotment, who react angrily when a group of refugees are given plots at the site. Once they get to know them better, they change their minds. Followed (if time) by discussion on the current refugee crisis.

Fairly and ethically traded products will be on sale
